WHAT IS THE ENNEAGRAM?

3 CENTERS OF INTELLIGENCE

Each Enneagram type is rooted in one of three Centers of Intelligence: the Head Center, the Heart Center, or the Body Center. The three Centers of Intelligence stem from a long Eastern philosophical tradition and refer to the ways in which we typically process information and respond to events. While we all have heads, hearts, and bodies, our personality is organized around one of these three centers or modalities. Each center also contains three of the nine Enneagram types.

Head Center Types: 5, 6, and 7

Heart Center Types: 2, 3, and 4

Body Center Types: 8, 9, and 1

The goal of the Enneagram is integration: to fully and effectively access all three Centers and to use them in an aligned way.

HISTORY

The Enneagram is an ancient system – at least 2000 - 4000 years old. The word comes from two Greek words ennea (“nine”) and gram (“something written or drawn”), and refers to the nine points on the Enneagram symbol. The nine different Enneagram types, identified as numbers One through Nine, reflect distinct habits of thinking, feeling, and behaving, with each type connected to a unique path of development.

Each person has only one core Enneagram type, and while our Enneagram type remains the same throughout our lifetime, the characteristics of our types may either soften or become more pronounced as we grow and develop. In addition to our core Enneagram type, there are four other types that provide additional qualities to our personalities; these are called wings and arrows.

CURRENT USAGE

More than a personality typology, the Enneagram is a profound map illuminating the nine different architectures of the human character. It is also the most powerful and practical system available for increasing emotional intelligence, with insights that can be used for personal and professional development.

Because the Enneagram is cross-cultural and uncannily accurate, it’s modern usage is growing dramatically across the globe. In addition to being used by individuals who embrace it for their own insight and development, organizations are using the Enneagram to increase emotional intelligence (EQ), enhance communication, manage conflict constructively, build high-performing teams, develop leadership, and more.

“We are looking for the key to our ultimate fulfillment in the wrong place.” – C. Naranjo

THE 9 ENNEAGRAM TYPES

ONES	Seek a perfect world and work diligently to improve both themselves and everyone and everything around them.
TWOS	Want to be liked, try to meet the needs of others, and attempt to orchestrate the people and events in their lives.
THREES	Organize their lives to achieve specific goals and to appear successful in order to gain the respect and admiration of others.
FOURS	Desire deep connections both with self and others, and they feel most alive when they authentically express their feelings.
FIVES	Thirst for information and knowledge and use emotional detachment as a way of keeping involvement with others to a minimum.
SIXES	Have insightful minds, are prone to worry, and create anticipatory scenarios to feel prepared in case something goes wrong.
SEVENS	Crave stimulation (ideas, people, and experiences), avoid pain, and create elaborate future plans to keep all their options open.
EIGHTS	Pursue the truth, like to keep situations under control, want to make important things happen, and try to hide their vulnerability.
NINES	Seek peace, harmony, and positive mutual regard and dislike conflict, tension, and ill will.
